Oxford House has as its primary goal the provision of housing and rehabilitative support for the alcoholic who wants to stop drinking or using and stay stopped.
Oxford House grew out of the need for many of us to begin a new life without fear of backsliding because of loneliness or renewed dependency on former drinking companions. Throughout its tradition, Oxford House has combined the concepts of self-support and responsibility with a fellowship having the common purpose of continued and comfortable sobriety. Oxford House must always have as its primary goal the provision of housing and rehabilitative support for the alcoholic who wants to stop drinking and stay stopped and the drug addict who wants to stop using drugs and stay stopped.

HOW IT WORKS

Oxford Houses are shared by 6 to 10 men or women, all committed to recovery. We share household expenses and housekeeping chores. Each house is democratically run – you have as much say as the next person when it comes to household decisions. The average weekly expenses per person for Oxford Houses across South Carolina are about $100. Most houses are adjacent to public transportation. No one is ever asked to leave an Oxford House as long as they follow the 3 basic rules of all Oxford Houses:

No Alcohol/Drug Use
Prompt Payment of Rent
No Disruptive Behavior

HOW DO I MOVE IN?

1) Start contacting houses or visit www.oxfordvacancies.com to find out where there are vacancies.
2) After selecting a house with a vacancy, call the house to schedule an interview.
3) During the interview, house members may ask questions regarding your past drug/alcohol abuse, job status, recovery goals, etc.
4) After the interview, the house will hold a vote for your acceptance.
5) Move in and enjoy being clean and sober with your new roommates!!

There is no minimum length of sobriety required to move into an Oxford House.

Oxford House is a concept and system of operations based on the experience of recovering alcoholics and drug addicts who learned that behavior change is essential to recovery from alcoholism and drug addiction. They also learned that Oxford House provided the living environment that could help them become comfortable enough with abstinent behavior to stay clean and sober without relapse.

Oxford Houses work because they have no time limit on how long a resident can live in an Oxford House and because they all adhere to the charter conditions that require that:

(!) The group must be democratically self-run following the policies and procedures of the Oxford House Manual
(2) The group must be financially self-supporting
(3) The group must immediately expel any resident who returns to using alcohol or illicit drugs.

Oxford House charters are provided free to groups of 6 or more recovering individuals of the same gender starting an Oxford House. Oxford Houses provide the missing elements needed by most alcoholics and drug addicts to develop behavior to assure long-term total abstinence. They provide the time, peer support and structured living environment necessary for long-term behavior change to take hold.

Individuals in an Oxford House learn or relearn values and responsible behavior. They develop the long-term behavior necessary to assure comfortable sobriety - forever.
Some residents live in an Oxford House a few months, others for many years. By using participatory democracy and self-support, alcoholics, drug addicts and those with co-occurring mental illness develop long-term recovery.

In 2011, the federal government (SAMHSA) listed the Oxford House program on the National Registry of Evidence-based Programs and Practices [NREPP]. While the 1988 Anti-Drug Abuse Act [PL100-690] represented a political acceptance of Oxford House, the NREPP listing at http://nrepp.samhsa.gov/ViewIntervention.aspx verified the soundness of the Oxford House model as an evidence-based program for significantly improving treatment outcome for alcoholics, drug addicts and those with co-occurring mental illness.

The Oxford Vacancies site makes it easy to find an opening, submit an application and find an alternate contact for each house. We strive to help every recovering member of the South Carolina community find a safe, supportive home to grow in their recovery.
